

Meet the Senior Leadership Team

Brett Jouny
Headteacher

I am delighted to be the Headteacher of Malmesbury School. The school's long tradition of exceptional work with young people, in a caring and nurturing environment, places it amongst the very best schools in the country. I have a strong connection to the school, having worked here in the past as a faculty head for International Business and Languages.

Being a forces child, I spent my youth moving around Europe and it was then I found my love of languages and foreign cultures. I eventually settled in Corsham and consider myself a West Country boy! After gaining a degree in German and Spanish from the University of Liverpool, I also completed my teaching qualification. During my year abroad in Spain and Germany I found a love for teaching and working with young people. I have Masters degrees in both Education and Advanced Educational Research from Oxford Brookes, which has aided me in my career in school leadership.

In my spare time I enjoy travelling with my wife and son, and I am also a lifelong and active follower of Arsenal football club and Bath Rugby, through the highs and many lows.

Clark Harrell
Deputy Headteacher

After a few years at Mark Hall, an 11-16 Comprehensive School in Harlow, Essex enjoying the challenges of teaching Science I was quite keen to move back to the west country and I saw an advert for an Assessment Co-ordinator in Science at Malmesbury School. I didn't know much about Malmesbury and I can remember driving up the high street towards the Market Cross on my way to the interview, chuckling to myself at how picturesque it was. My application was successful and I was appointed to the position in Sept 1999..... the rest is history. I have worn several hats during my time at Malmesbury, including PSHE Co-ordinator, Head of Sixth Form, Assistant Headteacher and Deputy Headteacher.

Malmesbury School has always had a strong sense of community and I instantly recognised this when I first stepped through its doors over 20 years ago. I have only ever known the school to put children at the centre of its decision making and I share a genuine pride with my colleagues. I consider my job a privilege and I am looking forward to the next chapter.

Dan Baker

Assistant Headteacher

I have worked at Malmesbury School for 20+ years since starting in the PE department in 2002. During my time here I have been School Sports Coordinator, Head of House, Academic Leader and Senior Pastoral Leader for year 7 and transition. In my role as Assistant Headteacher I have responsibility for the house system, school council, trips and visits, Safeguarding, line management of Creative Arts and iLearn and community liaison. I formerly played rugby and cricket but since retiring I now have an unhealthy obsession with golf. I absolutely love working at Malmesbury School. The students and staff are incredibly friendly and supportive of each other and I really feel part of the wider Malmesbury School community. I really believe that in order to do our best we should enjoy what we are doing which is why the fun and friendly atmosphere at Malmesbury has kept me here all these years.

Jennifer Howe

Assistant Headteacher

I have been teaching Mathematics for 17 years and worked in five schools across Wiltshire, Gloucestershire and Bath and North Somerset. I joined Malmesbury School in 2014 as an Assistant Headteacher and the school ethos of 'Happy, Caring, Excellent' is very much in line with my own values. My current responsibilities at Malmesbury include curriculum and timetabling, Year 9 options, recruitment, marketing and line management of Humanities. I firmly believe that investing in our staff through high quality CPD, the creation of a supportive and collaborative working environment and a consistent focus on staff and student wellbeing is the key to first rate teaching and support. This in turn secures wonderful learning experiences and life chances for all our students.

In my spare time I like to go bike rides with my husband and four children, play tennis and run.

Mark Shadrick
Assistant Headteacher

It has always been my ambition to be a teacher, and I have been lucky enough to work at three great schools so far in my career. I have learnt a lot in each role I have taken so far in my career and feel very fortunate to hold the position of Assistant Headteacher at Malmesbury School. I strongly believe that all students can be successful and that high-quality teaching with high levels of effort from students is the key to their success. My current responsibilities include line managing Mathematics and Computing, PE, and KS4, along with leading on data, examinations and reports.

Anne-Marie Whaley
Assistant Headteacher

I feel extremely privileged to lead within a school, which is clearly committed to social justice and ensuring that both its staff and students are supported, challenged and happy. I have been teaching predominantly Religious Studies and Philosophy for 11 years and have worked as Head of Humanities, Lead Practitioner and member of SLT before my appointment as Assistant Headteacher at Malmesbury School. I have a passion for teaching and learning, ensuring we maintain high expectations in our classrooms and enabling all students to achieve their potential, regardless of their starting point. Over the years I have always enjoyed conducting my own action research, focussing on improving the progress of Pupil Premium and EAL students and I completed a Masters in Education to formalise my findings in 2015. My current responsibilities include teaching and learning, CPD, attendance, 6th form and the line management of English.

Louise Stanton

Associate Assistant Headteacher

I have been teaching History and Politics for 20 years; Malmesbury is the second school I have worked in; I have been at Malmesbury for 10 years. I am the Senior Curriculum leader for iLearn (Careers/PSHE/Cz) and am the school's named Careers Lead. I have been appointed to the post of Associate Assistant Headteacher with my main responsibility being to oversee FSM and PP provision, and to line manage Year 7 and the Languages faculty. My educational philosophy is of an inclusive education system where every child matters. I believe that the teaching profession is a very important job within society and at its best teachers really have the power to shape pupils' lives for the better.
