Regular recall

The best way to revise maths is to do some maths! Spending a short period of time each day, or a few times a week, working on some extra maths will make all the difference. You could:

- Complete a '5 a day worksheet' on Corbett maths
- Make/use some flash cards
- Look up a topic in a revision guide

I have a bit more time

Recap a topic:

- Work through a topic on Sparx independent learning
- Spend some time on Sparx GCSE revision
- Work through some topic-based exam questions on Maths Genie
- Corbettmaths videos with accompanying worksheets
- Use the revision guide to recap a topic then complete exam questions in workbook

- Make a list of the topics you need to revise and then use one of our suggested websites to help you to improve

Feedback from Y12 about exam prep

- When marking past papers, if you get it wrong look the topic up on a Corbett card to help understanding
- Look at patterns of questions that came up- same/similar questions coming up
- Even if you sit for just half an hour and do some questions, it's better than nothing
